A New Federal Tax Credit for Scholarship Donations

Beginning January 1, 2027, the Federal Scholarship Tax Credit (FSTC) makes it possible for individuals to direct up to $1,700, and married couples to direct up to $3,400, of what would otherwise be paid in federal taxes to fund scholarships.

1

On or after January 1, 2027, donate to Children's Scholarship Fund (CSF) as a one-time or recurring gift. A gift of $1,700 is only $33 a week!

CSF will give you a tax receipt to file with your 2027 tax return, typically filed in 2028.

3

Receive a credit for the amount of your gift (up to $1,700 for individuals, up to $3,400 for married couples) against what you would otherwise pay the IRS. Better than a traditional charitable deduction, this new tax credit will allow you to claim a 100% dollar-for-dollar reduction in the amount you pay in federal taxes.

CSF Scholars receive life-changing scholarships to pay for the education that best meets their needs!
